PEP Young Women's Leadership Council

The Pro-Choice Public Education Project's Young Women's Leadership Council is seeking new members to continue its mission to be the voice and raise the voices of diverse young women in the sexual and reproductive justice movement.

We are looking for potential YWLC members that are:

- Between the ages of 16 and 29, with diverse backgrounds and a wide range of interests within the reproductive justice movement including HIV, abortion rights, LGBTQ issues, community organizing, blogging, racial justice, and media/pop culture.
- Passionate about these and many other issues that affect women, particularly young women, women of color, and low-income women.
- Interested in opportunities to travel, network, and/or facilitate workshops on behalf of the YWLC and PEP, all of which will help build skills that will be useful for school, career, and beyond.

The application deadline is July 1st, 2009

Applications are available on the PEP website at
